23 What did you like most about this course?

- This course was a very interesting deviation from the standard methodology-based engineering courses. The development of the abstract mathematics behind the commonly known and understood methods in signal processing was eye-opening, and raised as many interesting questions as it answered - the mark of an excellent course.
- Very interesting advanced topics on mathematics.
- Class was engaging, tested knowledge of material rather than how much one could memorize/fit on a note card.
